WOP DUBAI 2016 REVIEW

WOP DUBAI 2016 sets new standards: The only trade fair for fresh produce in the Gulf region enticed 235 exhibitors from 30 countries. This was 18 percent more than in the previous year. For the first time companies from Argentina, Vietnam and Malaysia attended. The number of visitors registered a plus of 20 percent, reached 6055. Thus, WOP DUBAI 2016 was the largest event ever. The number of official national participation booths rose to 15. Greece, India and South Africa were also involved for the first time and Greece had most participants. The other represented national pavilions came from Australia, Belgium, China, Egypt, France, Italy, Kenya, Cyprus, Morocco, Portugal, Spain and Turkey.

A high quality of fruits and vegetables is greatly appreciated in the United Arab Emirates. The Gulf region therefore is a significant market for the fruits and vegetables industry. In this respect, Dubai is used as a hub because over 40 percent of all the imported fresh goods are re-exported to the other Gulf states. This year, WOP DUBAI also focused on new technologies and equipments for the producers of fresh goods, including transport trolleys for the fruit and vegetable markets and air freight containers for fresh goods. In the supporting programme, the Eurofruit Middle East Business Forum supplied specialist information for the visitors. The Dubai Municipality, operator of the largest fruit and vegetable market in the region, again provided partnership – based support for the fair.

95% of the exhibitors generated new clients & contacts.

83% of the exhibitors received orders at the show.

97% of the exhibitors expect successful follow-up business after the show.

91% of the exhibitors will be participating again next year.

This event have truly helped our company in meeting current and new suppliers as well as customers. This year I can say is the most successful yet, we have met more international suppliers which would be a big boost for us. I hope that for the following years this event would grow more and have more international conglomerates around the globe."

"WOP DUBAI 2016 was very successful for us. We had several serious visitors to our stand and already we have received orders beyond our capacity to produce. The business was overwhelming and we are very happy about WOP, the only Produce show in the Middle East."

Coming here with a national pavilion was certainly the right decision. We were able to meet up and network with a lot of important protagonists from the local market. WOP DUBAI has helped us to improve our understanding of the local market and given us the possibility to extending our business. The geographical location, the culture and the people's appreciation of quality fruits are making the Middle East a very important market for Greek imports. We will definitely come again next year.
